

CONTENTS

Number 1. March, 1941

The differential measurement of speed in primary school children.
Aileen Carpenter	1
Some physiological changes during frustration. Hudson Jost	9
Development of rotary-vestibular reactions of the human infant.
Myrtle B. McGraw	17
A study of the intelligence of Italian and Polish school children from deteriorated and non-deteriorated areas of Chicago as measured by the Chicago non-verbal examination. Andrew W. Brown and Carol B. Cotton	21
Neural maturation as exemplified in the changing reactions of the infant to pin prick. Myrtle B. McGraw	31
Parents' reports of undesirable behavior in children. Alma Long ...	43
The relation of fetal activity to the activity of the mother.
Gertrude Raffel Schmeidler	63
Daily variations in the breathing capacity and grip strength of preschool children as related to the occurrence of colds.
Eleanor Metheny	69

Number 2. June, 1941

Some sex differences observed in a group of nursery school children.
Jeanette B. McCay and Marie B. Fowler	75
Factors associated with crying in young children in the nursery school and the home. Catherine Landreth	81
Vowel elements in the crying vocalization of infants under ten days of age. Orvis C. Irwin and Thayer Curry	99
The profile as a visual device for indicating central tendencies in speech data. Orvis C. Irwin	111
The influence of social factors upon the persistence of satiation in pre-school children. Arthur Burton	121
The measurement of parent behavior. Horace Champney	131
The Berkeley growth study. Harold E. Jones and Nancy Bayley	167
A comparison of routine hospital records of birth stature with measurements of birth stature obtained for longitudinal research. Howard V. Meredith and Jack L. Goodman	175
Further results on the trend of weight in white school children. Georg Wolff	183
Studies on dental caries. XI. Sex differences in the caries susceptibility of the various morphological types of permanent teeth. Henry Klein and Carroll E. Palmer	207

CONTENTS

Number 3. September, 1941

Measures which characterize the individual during the development of behavior in early life. R.V.D. Campbell and A.A. Weech	217
The relation between the development of behavior and the pattern of physical growth. A.A. Weech and R.V.D. Campbell	237
Developmental changes in attitude as one factor determining energy output in a motor performance. Vera T. Dammann	241
Size discrimination in children. Louis Long	247
The pediatric anamnesis. Inaccuracies in eliciting developmental data. Myrtle B. McGraw and Louise B. Molloy	255
Quantitative studies in the development of erect locomotion. Myrtle B. McGraw and Kenneth W. Breeze	267

Number 4. December, 1941

Popularity among preschool children. Rosemary Lippitt	305
The location of the subordinate clause in oral and written language. Edith A. Davis	333
Anthropometric and orthopedic examinations - A technique for use with children. Mabel Pottinger Baum and Vernetta S. Vickers ..	339
Development and cultural patterning in children's protests. Mary Shirley and Lillian Poyntz	347
A reliability study of speech sounds observed in the crying of newborn infants. Orvis C. Irwin	351
The degree of underprivilege in dependent children. Raymond R. Willoughby	369

